How about:

The 2013 forecast is largely consistent with previous 2011 ridership forecast: under the latest business model, approximately 2.46M riders are expected in 2020, up from 2.3M reported in 2011

Exclusion per Committee Direction

Just stopped me in the hallway asking if we could include a more descriptive sentence on the 2013 ridership results in that document for Jey.

Could we say

The 2013 forecast confirmed the previous 2011 ridership forecast: in particular, an approximate addition of X riders in opening year whatever
