Gary

I hope you are keeping well – it was good to meet with you in Chicago back in March.

I will be attending the APTA conference in Boston next week, and it would be good to meet up with you as I understand that you will also be there. We have organised a reception to which I am pleased that Judy Knight has confirmed her attendance. I believe that you may have received a hard copy invitation, but please see below an e-invitation. It would be great if you were able to join us.

I am travelling on to Toronto afterwards to meet with Daniel Haufschild re the Georgetown Corridor Airport Rail Link where we are helping to update the ridership forecasts.

I look forward to seeing you next week.

Kind regards

Jim

Invitation - an evening hosted by Steer Davies Gleave

- Unique tour of Boston Public Library
- Launch of SDG's Rail Report
- Network with your industry colleagues

This year's APTA Rail Conference takes place close to our Boston office. APTA Rail is North America's largest and most comprehensive rail event, and this year encompasses forums on high-speed, commuter and intercity rail planning, sustainability, finance, operations, and technical forums. For more on APTA Rail visit www.apta.com/mc/rail

Alongside the conference, Steer Davies Gleave is delighted to invite you to an evening reception at the Boston Public Library, two minutes walk from APTA Rail. During our reception, we will launch our 'World Rail' comparison report; all guests will receive a hardback copy of this insightful report. For the first forty guests to RSVP, we have also arranged a unique tour of the wonderful space that is the Boston Public Library, which features a viewing of the Transcontinental Railroad maps produced during the Civil War.

About Boston Public Library

The oldest free municipal library in the US, the Boston Public Library opened its doors in 1848. It was the first library to allow people to borrow books and take them home to read, and now holds an incredible eight million books, making it one of the largest libraries in the US. Designed by Charles Follen McKim, the new Boston Public Library was proclaimed a “palace for the people” when it opened. The building includes lavish decorations, a children’s room (the first in the nation), and a central courtyard surrounded by an arcaded gallery in the manner of a Renaissance cloister. It is truly beautiful.
